OPERATORS ASK TIME OF MINERS

Are Unable to Agree Upon Them
Reply to Mitchell.

One Pennsylvania Mine Increases
Wages of Its Men to Return Them.

CRISIS TOMORROW PROBABLE

New York, April 9.—Many differences having developed among the anthracite operators as to the exact nature or extent of the counter proposition to be made to John Mitchell's proposal for arbitration of the differences between miners and the anthracite operators, the latter have asked that the joint meeting scheduled for this afternoon be postponed until tomorrow. The request was granted by the miners.

An Increase of Wages.
Wilkesbarre, April 9.—In an effort to keep the men at work and to encourage others to join them the Pea Coal company this morning advanced the wages, the men employed at washeries 10 per cent. These washeries were working last week.

May Return to Work.
Pittsburgh, April 9.—There were no developments that disturbed the peace of the bituminous coal fields reported today. In the Pittsburgh district it is expected that 90 per cent of the miners who have been idle will return to work tomorrow. The storm centers in other districts are growing more settled, and there is every evidence that the men at these points will return to work before many days.

The crisis will be reached Tuesday when the coal companies will begin the eviction of those miners who refuse to return to work.

Men are resuming labor gradually and the strike will not extend beyond three mines, it is said.

LUCK OF HOOISER POET.

Gold Mine Within Nine Miles of His Home Site.

Bloomington, Ind., April 9.—Gold is to be mined in Brown county, 25 miles from here, by a party of Italians headed by a civil engineer and an ex-Italian army officer. Attempts have been made before to secure wealth by gold mining in Brown county, but have not been successful.

However, the Italians claim that they have discovered a rich vein, and that they have secured the land upon which it is situated and will start to work at once.

The proposed gold mine is situated about nine miles from the site where James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet, intends to build his summer hotel for authors.

ALLEGED WIFE MURDERER

Freed—Noted Case at New Albany,
Ind., So Results.

New Albany, Ind., April 9.—After deliberating for forty-six hours the jury which heard the evidence charging Rev. Ulysses G. Sutherland with the murder of his wife, returned a verdict of acquittal this morning. The woman was found dead and the husband was accused of being the murderer. The evidence at the trial was largely in behalf of the innocence of the accused and the court's instructions were to the same effect. The jury's delay in finding a verdict is not explained.

YELLOW FEVER IN LOUISIANA.

Well Developed Case of the Article
Discovered At Kenner.

Jackson, Miss., April 9.—Governor Vardaman has received a letter from Surgeon White in New Orleans stating that notwithstanding the reports to the contrary, a fever patient at Kenner, La., was suffering from yellow fever. Dr. White says he has seen the patient, and that there is no doubt that the case is yellow fever. He notified the governor of Mississippi, he adds, because he feels it his duty to do so.

Congressman Horton Dead.
St. Paul, Minn., April 9.—Rider H. Horton, representing this district in congress, died Sunday in the Island Nassau, Bahamas, from Bright's disease.

HITS ORIENT ONLY IN SPOTS.
Free Silver Leader Going to the Holy Land.

Lincoln, Neb., April 9.—In a private letter received today from William J. Bryan, written at Calcutta, Mr. Bryan says he expects to return home about the middle of September. His itinerary includes a trip from Bombay to Cairo, a journey to the Holy Land, Constantinople and St. Petersburg, reaching the Russian capital about the time the new regime in governmental affairs has been inaugurated.

Finger Print System Adopted.
Washington, April 9.—The war department has decided to adopt the finger print system of identification in the army, and all military posts, hospitals and recruiting stations will hereafter be equipped with apparatus for recording the digital impressions of all the men now serving under the flag. Officers as well as enlisted men will have their finger marks preserved for future reference. The finger print system was decided upon by a special board appointed for the purpose of providing an improved system of identification of recruits. It is far superior to the Bertillon system, the board concluded. It has been in successful use in India for a long time and is at present used by the police departments of several cities in the United States.

YOUNG MACHINIST PAINFULLY HURT

Arm Seriously Crushed by Being Caught in "Jumper."

Party of Five "Hobos" Women Box
Car It Into Paducah Last Evening.

MANY READABLE SHOP NOTES.

Clifford Fulmer, aged 18, the son of General Foreman R. E. Fulmer, of the local I. C. shops, met with a serious accident this morning at the shops.

The young man is a machinist apprentice and was working at a small machine known as a "Jumper." He got his right arm caught in the machine and the wrist was crushed and the flesh badly torn and lacerated.

The young man was taken to the hospital where the injury was dressed. It is not thought amputation will be necessary unless complications set in. The injury is very serious, however.

Couple Known Here to Wed.
Mr. William Flowers, baggage agent for the local I. C., has received an invitation announcing the wedding of Mr. John Akin to Miss Katie Lawrence, the latter of Nashville. The wedding will take place tonight at 8 o'clock in Nashville and the couple will reside in that city.

The couple is well known here.

Mr. Akin was for a year or more night baggage agent for the local I. C., and his bride is the sister of Mrs. C. G. Shepard whose husband was day ticket agent for the road. Miss Lawrence often visited her sister here and resided in Paducah for several months at one time.

Mr. Akin is traveling for the Armour company out of Nashville, and news of the marriage will come as a pleasant surprise to their many friends here.

Last night a party of car repairers employed in the shop yards were working on a "bad order" car which had just been brought in by a freight train from the South. The car was not too badly damaged to necessitate uncoupling and running in a siding, and the repairers "worked" it in the train.

Jacks were placed under one end of the car and slowly the hydraulic pressure lifted the end off its trucks. Slowly and cautiously the car door opened and the startled repairers stopped their work to watch developments. A light curly head was thrust out of the door and the repairers could hardly believe their eyes. Some even pinched themselves to see if they were dreaming.

"Say, what town is this, anyway?" the possessor of the head inquired. She did not appear to be particular

MAY CUT POLICE FORCE TO-NIGHT

Fire and Police Commissioners to Hold a Meeting.

If Reduction Ordinance Passed By Council is Retroactive It Will Be Enforced.

SOME TALK OF ENJOINING, ETC.

The board of fire and police commissioners will meet tonight in regular session at the city hall, and will take up the matter of cutting the police force to 18 men, exclusive of a chief, captain and lieutenant. The other business will be routine and unimportant.

A commissioner stated this morning that the matter of cutting the force had been informally discussed by members of the board and the inclination of the board seemed to be to abide by the law—to cut the force—now that the ordinance is effective.

"The police force will be cut, in all probability, tonight," he stated, "but it may be increased when the state law passed by the legislature is effective. If the ordinance becomes effective when passed over the mayor's veto and after publication, then it is reasonable to presume the state law is effective just as much after the 60 days after passage has expired. If the ordinance is retroactive, then the state law may just as legally be. If the police force can be cut by city ordinance, after the force has been appointed and bonded for the year, then the increase can as legally be made, it seems. At least this is how it seems to the commissioners."

It is understood that the city solicitor will be called upon for an opinion in the matter. The law will have to be decided one way or the other, and the solicitor is the proper person to decide for the boards. The matter as it stands is likely to cause trouble if the board of commissioners does take the stand intimated and may lead to legal complications.

Police and the two detectives have consulted lawyers—that is many have, and are preparing to take legal steps, they declare, to enjoin the city from removing them. Representative L. P. Hend, who urged the police bill through the legislature, is quoted as saying he will himself enjoin the city from cutting the force after the time limit on the state bill has expired.

The action of the board tonight will be the hinge on which the entire matter will swing, and the result will be watched with interest.

One Hundred and Fifty Lives.

San Francisco, Cal., April 9.—The steamer Mariposa arrived from Tahiti, bringing additional particulars of the storm which swept the South Sea Islands last February. According to the last estimates one hundred and fifty lives were lost and property damages amounted to a million and a half. Several small vessels were lost during the storm.

The meeting Thursday will be preliminary. It will be a meeting to organize the commission and outline plans. No definite action in the matter of selecting sites, etc., will be taken. The state commission will ask for bids, and the town having the best offer will get the school for this end of the state.

NORMAL SCHOOL

ONE IS TO BE LOCATED IN WESTERN KENTUCKY.

Paducah Can Secure the Institution
If the Proper Efforts Are Made.

A move has been set on foot among local educators and others interested in educational work to secure for Paducah one of the state normal schools. The move is yet in its infancy, but will be pushed hard and all forces brought to bear on the proper authorities in order that all aid possible be secured from city and county in securing the school.

Prof. E. G. Payne, principal of the High school, is one of the commissioners appointed by Governor Beckham, and he will leave Wednesday night to attend a meeting of the commission in Frankfort Thursday. He states that as far as any official action is concerned nothing has been done in Paducah towards securing the location of the state normal school for Western Kentucky, but that he has been spoken to by several individuals.

The legislative law empowering counties to issue bonds for building colleges can be made applicable to this matter, Prof. Payne stated, "and I think would raise no question at all. If the county could be prevailed upon to issue bonds and buy a site or building to offer the state, I believe, as do others, that Paducah will be able to outdo all competition for the school. Bowling Green has a building and site to offer, and Paducah has not, but we have other advantages which cannot be offered by Bowling Green, and if the county will act favorably, I believe we can stand a good chance of getting the school here."

The meeting Thursday will be preliminary. It will be a meeting to organize the commission and outline plans. No definite action in the matter of selecting sites, etc., will be taken. The state commission will ask for bids, and the town having the best offer will get the school for this end of the state.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

Towboat Hoxie Sunk in the Ohio River.

Pomeroy, O., April 9.—Early Sunday morning the towboat H. H. Hoxie, while headed for port with a heavy fleet of empty barges, exploded her boilers at Portland, O., 34 miles above here, and sank, with the water over the hurricane deck. The boilers blew out forward and wrecked the forward end of the boat.

One man was knocked overboard and drowned and several others injured more or less.

The boat was owned by the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company of Pittsburgh.

Effects of a Storm.

James O'Neill, in "Monte Cristo" at The Kentucky Tonight.

Theatrical Notes

RIVER NEWS

Henrietta Crosman's many attainments places her in the foremost rank of modern players. Her artful gifts combined with personal charm, her delightful qualities of magnetism, buoyancy and sprightliness, and her facile play upon the lighter emotions, have won recognition for her as the greatest comedienne on the stage today. In none of her plays has she been so fascinating as in her latest New York hit, the comedy, "Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary," which she will present at the Kentucky theater tomorrow night. In this comedy she has secured her most pronounced success.

James O'Neill in "Monte Cristo," comes to the Kentucky theater tonight. Mr. O'Neill's Count de Monte Cristo is unchanged. The advancing years have touched him lightly. He is the same supple youth and simple hearted sailor of the earlier scenes; the same determined prisoner later on; the same dignity clings to his count; the same effectiveness in impression by the art of repression and quiet methods. When he descends the great stairway of the Hotel Merton, costumed with sumptuous simplicity, Mr. O'Neill makes one of the most impressive figures in the history of the stage. His Yenning in the last act remains something to be talked about. He has an excellent company in support and the production in its entirety is one of the most costly and elaborate he has ever given the famous old play.

The gauge today was 40.4, the same as Saturday, but a fall of .1 since Sunday morning. The river is falling above, and will soon be falling rapidly here, it is thought.

The Dick Fowler got away on time for Cairo this morning.

The City of Saltillo arrived out of the Tennessee at 6 this morning en route to St. Louis. She had the Wisconsin party of 90 which has been to Shiloh to attend the dedication of the Wisconsin monument.

The Joe Fowler was the Evansville packet today.

The Flaley passed down with a big SUNDAY.

The Butterfield came in from Nashville and left for Clarksville today.

The Dick Fowler gave the first excursion of the season Sunday, going to Smithfield. She had a very good crowd. Next Sunday she will run an excursion to the Tennessee river bridge.

The Charles Turner left for the Tennessee river today.

The Duffy left for the Tennessee river today.

Circuit Court of Smithland.

The Smithland circuit court convened this morning, but the docket contains only a few interesting cases this term.

The court held a mixed term, both criminal and civil and among the important civil actions are the suits brought by Thos. Evans, former county official, against C. Butler and others for affidavits published during the recent election.

Men's gloves are exceptions to the rule of meadling with cotton. They are heavier, as a rule, and almost invariably stitched with silk, which should be used for the necessary menning so as to show as little difference between old and new parts as possible.

One of the most important things to be remembered in the care of one's clothes is keeping the wardrobes and cupboard in which they are hung in perfect order and cleanliness, and, above all things, do not forget that they need frequent airing. On a sunny day the doors should be left open for several hours and the fresh air allowed to circulate thoroughly. A bottle of spirits of camphor, with the cork removed, may be hung on a hook. This will keep out moths and give a fresh, clean odor to the garments, but not strong enough to make them offensive when worn. Cedar oil, if preferred, may be used in the same way. A dress bodice should never be put away without airing.

Housekeepers frequently find a difficulty in using coal dust so as to avoid waste. An excellent way is to place a piece of paper about ten inches long and about six inches wide over coal dust on it, sift carefully and place gently on the fire. The corner of the paper will, of course, catch fire, but the part under the coal dust will gradually burn through and improve the fire instead of causing the usual redness which results from burning coal dust.

The Tobacco Bill Has Little Chance in Senate

Although the bill to allow farmers to sell their leaf tobacco without paying revenue tax now levied was unanimously passed by the house there is little probability that it will become a law, says a Washington official.

The reason for its chance of life being slender is that Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, of Rhode Island, who killed it after the house passed it last year is said to object to it for the same reasons and in the same degree this year.

The tobacco bill was introduced in several forms by different representatives. John Wesley Gaines, of Tennessee, and Ollie James of Kentucky, were the principal champions of the bill this session, but all of the members of the delegations from Tennessee, Kentucky and Virginia were interested in its adoption. After considering the several bills the house committee on ways and means reported a bill to the house and it was passed without division.

The farmers of the tobacco producing states want the law passed. The tobacco trust does not want it passed. Nelson W. Aldrich is the chairman of the senate finance committee, corresponding to the ways and means committee in the house. Senator Aldrich went to Europe last year leaving a large number of anti-trust measures hung up in his committee, and the tobacco tax bill, among them, failed to be reported.

Senator Aldrich, the father-in-law of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is described in an article by David Graham Phillips as the chief agent of the trusts—the tobacco trust among them—in the senate. He is at least in sympathy with the aims and objects of a number of the most powerful "interests." His position as chairman of the finance committee is one of power. To snuff out the life of such a measure as the tobacco tax bill is to Senator Aldrich a mere trifling—an incident in the execution of a program of slaughter among such measures as are objectionable to Rockefeller enterprises, or to the various "interests" represented in the senate. Senator Daniels of Virginia, and Senator Aldrich are members of a subcommittee of the finance committee which is considering the tobacco bill. Senators Blackburn and McCleary, of Kentucky, and

SPECIAL MESSAGE

TO CONGRESS IS BEING PREPARED BY PRESIDENT.

He Wants Legislation That Will Make It Possible to Prosecute Trusts.

Washington, April 9.—The president is preparing a special message to congress on legislation to make it possible to prosecute persons who enter into a conspiracy for the restraint of trade. The administration has decided that there can be no appeal from the decision of Judge Humphrey, of Chicago, that the beef trust magnates cannot be prosecuted individually and that legislation has not kept pace with modern varieties of crime.

Since the decision of Judge Humphrey Attorney General Moody, Solicitor General Hoyt and all the assistant attorney generals have been searching the statute books for some law which would enable the government to prosecute the packers criminally. They have been unable to find such law, and it is held that if an appeal should be taken the packers will have been twice in jeopardy for the same offense. This is in violation of the constitution.

ONLY FOUR INNINGS PLAYED.

Yesterday's Game of Ball Checked by the Rain.

The first baseball game of the season was witnessed by a large crowd at Wallace park yesterday afternoon. The game was played between a team partly composed of professionals against an amateur team. A good crowd was out.

The contest lasted only four innings, being stopped by rain, and was won by the professionals by a score of 4 to 0. Dick Brable pitched the first three innings for the visitors, and George Ripley pitched the last. The amateur battery was Hart and Gourieux. Jimmie Connors caught for the professionals and Charlie Brown, formerly president of the league, umpired.

The Paducah Indians are coming in rather fast now and all will be here by the 10th. The ground is being placed in good condition and the park will be fit for regular practice in two or three days.

Those of the Indians who are here now are Wiggins, Connors, Wetzel and Miller.

DISTINGUISHED VISITORS.

The Wisconsin Visitors to Shiloh Park Return Home.

Governor J. H. Davidson, of Wisconsin, his staff and a party of several hundred veterans of the Civil war, passed through Paducah this morning en route home after visiting the Shiloh battlefields and witnessing a dedication of Wisconsin monuments there.

Gov. Davidson and party passed through the city last week en route to the famous battlefield, and took the boat out of Paducah. The party came here on a special train over the I. C., but did not have this convenience in leaving. The party arrived last night on the Clyde and took the 9:30 train to Cairo this morning, where they will catch the fast Chicago flyer for home. A special coach was coupled to the train here for the accommodation of the party.

THE FINNEY DOCKS.

Tom Murray to Take Charge and Enlarge Them.

Mr. Thomas H. Murray, formerly superintendent of the Paducah marine ways, has accepted a position as superintendent of the Finney docks in Mechanicsburg, and will at once enlarge the docks.

Mr. Murray was for three years with the marine ways company, and proved a capable man for the place, making an enviable record in the work and number of boats pulled out for repairs. He will add two sections to the docks, making the capacity sufficiently large to dock any ordinary size boat. The docks were originally built for docking barges and small craft.

Notice to Contractors.

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by me in behalf of the county, at my office in the court house, on Saturday, the 14th of April, 1902, at 10 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of furnishing to the county gravel for repairing the Hinsdale and Lovelaceville gravel road. FOUND GUILTY

WILLIS MOUNT CASE SETTLED SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Defendant Gets 17 Years for Manslaughter—Jury Out Two Days and Nights.

The jury in the case of Willis Mount, charged with murder, returned a verdict Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock finding the defendant guilty of manslaughter and fixing his punishment at 17 years in the penitentiary. The jury took the case at 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon and had been out two days and two nights before an agreement was reached. The jury stood unanimous as to Mount's guilt, but differed as to the punishment. It is understood the jury stood 11 for voluntary manslaughter and a 21 year term, while one stood for but five years.

Saturday at noon Judge Reed called the jury into court and his instructions served as an impetus to a speedy agreement. The jury was told that he would not discharge it before Monday morning, and would wait its pleasure and be ready to receive a verdict at any time until the limit expired. The jurors rather than remain cooped up until Monday struck a compromise.

Formation of Parade and the Line of March Decided Upon Yesterday.

The Grand Marshal.

The committee on arrangements selected Mr. Charles Smith for the position of grand marshal. His deputies will be Messrs. Gus G. Singletor, Pete J. Beckenbach, Henry Seaman and Julie G. Switzer.

The line of march for the enormous parade, which will doubtless eclipse anything ever seen in Paducah in the parade line, was decided on and will be as follows:

Formation of Parade.

Fire department on North Seventh facing Broadway.

City officials, municipal board members and police force on South Seventh facing Broadway.

All Daughters of Rebekahs, on South Sixth facing Broadway.

Paducah lodges, on North Fifth, facing Broadway.

All visiting lodges, on South Fifth facing Broadway.

The Case.

The Mount case has been one of the hardest fought in the annals of McCracken circuit court history and it has had three trials. The first trial resulted in a hung jury and the second in a verdict of guilty and a 21 years' term. The appellate court granted a new trial, and it resulted as above. Mount's attorneys state they will move for a new trial as soon as it is possible to prepare the necessary papers.

The Crime.

Mount is charged with the willful murder of Willis Edward Nutty, a jockey, in a gambling room over the "Stage" saloon on South Fourth St., half a square off Broadway. The crime was committed on Sunday night October 18, 1902. Nutty was considered "out of his class" by Al Phelps and other gamblers in the room, and they refused to play with him. Mount's mind was inflamed with intoxicants and he interposed in the argument. He was lying on a bed at the time the quarrel began, and jumping up asked Nutty what he was "going to do about it." Nutty looked at Mount and replied, "O I know you, Willis Mount; you look like 30 cents to me." This seemed to anger Mount to an uncontrollable degree, resulting in his pulling his pistol and firing with fatal results.

The Jury.

T. A. Greenwell, George W. Harris, J. G. Miller, W. R. Hall, J. T. Denton, W. H. Adams, C. F. Ablett, S. R. Jackson, C. E. Ellington, D. H. Jeffords, C. R. Grear, J. H. Farthing.

The Verdict.

"We, the jury, find the defendant guilty of manslaughter, and fix his punishment at 17 years at hard labor in the penitentiary.

Signed: J. H. FARTHING, One of the Jury."

The Attorneys.

Mount was first represented by Attorneys T. E. Moss, Sr., and Jesse Moss, his son, and H. S. Corbett, of the city, and Sam Crossland, of Mayfield. The case was first prosecuted by W. F. Idrashaw, then Commonwealth attorney, assisted by Eugene Graves, then county attorney. This trial resulted in a hung jury.

The second trial was conducted by Commonwealth Attorney John G. Lovett and County Attorney Eugene Graves, Mount having the same attorneys.

The third trial brought changes in Mount's attorneys and also in the prosecution's array of legal talent.

Major Moss had died and Eugene Graves had gone out of office.

Nutty's relatives had employed Attorney Fred Yonag, of Metropolis, to assist the prosecution, and Eugene Graves, the former prosecutor, had been employed by Mount.

A Dandy for Burns.

Dr. Bergin Pana, Ill., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment; always recommend it to my friends, as I am confident there is no better made. It is a dandy for burns." Those who live on farms are especially liable to many accidental cuts, burns, bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Alvey & List.

The Sewerage Extension Question.

The sanitary committee of both boards will meet tonight for the purpose of opening bids from sanitary engineering experts who propose to take charge of the West End sewerage extension and perform all preliminary work. It is thought this will be cheaper and better than employing an engineer to work at a salary, the first idea of the boards.

The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

Dated April 5th, 1902.

I. O. O. F. MEETING

MORE ARRANGEMENTS FOR INTERSTATE GATHERING ARE MADE.

Formation of Parade and the Line of March Decided Upon Yesterday.

Arrangements for the big interstate meeting of the I. O. O. F. are rapidly being perfected. Yesterday another meeting was held by the arrangement committee and the grand marshal, his deputies, the parade and other matters were definitely outlined.

The Grand Marshal.

The committee on arrangements selected Mr. Charles Smith for the position of grand marshal. His deputies will be Messrs. Gus G. Singletor, Pete J. Beckenbach, Henry Seaman and Julie G. Switzer.

Daily Thought.

"The saddest people in the world are those who are always fighting against sorrow."

The extra session of the Illinois legislature which gathers tomorrow, will be short lived unless it is an unruly body. The decision of the state supreme court as to the unconstitutionality of the state primary law, under which a ticket was about to be chosen, made amendments or a repeat necessary, and the state administration was in favor of the amending but against repealing, hence the extra assembling of the legislature. It is announced that a bill which fully meets the objections of the supreme court to the one voted upon has been prepared and will be ready for presentation to the legislature, which should pass the new act. The party, however, is somewhat at difference over the primary law and the ticket which may be chosen thereunder and just what may be the developments is not clear.

There is much comment over the socialist vote in the late contests in Chicago and Milwaukee particularly. The vote in each of these two cities was surprisingly large and the press and politicians are wondering what it means. The socialist vote is significant of but one particular fact and that is, the people are loosing their heads in chasing after ideal dreams. It is clear these visionary voters, who harm only themselves, need to do more serious thinking than they have been indulging in. This is a government of the people and it will so continue, and sound principles and not fallacies will ever have sway.

The present rule in Russia totters unless the people are appeased. There is no other solution to the elections just held in the empire, if cable reports are reliable. The people have asserted their strength at the polls in a way not to be longer treated with scorn. Witto's demand for a constitutional government even may fail, but it seems the country's only salvation short of an iron rule after another revolution is overcome, if the second one can be quelled. The outlook for Russia is gloomy, though it may be there is a silver lining to the dark cloud now hovering over the land.

The approaching democratic state convention of Tennessee will be a regular "Kilkenny cat fight." There is hardly a county delegation which is not to be contested. Under such unusual conditions, even in a democratic state convention the "persimmon," it is evident, will not go to the man with the longest pole, but to the best gun at knocking out.

The millinery display being about over, spring will now settle down to regular order of things. The mill-

What has become of the request of the board of public works that it be allowed to plant shade trees along the streets that have been improved? It is time to be settling them out right now.

Is Apostle Dowle "nitty" or is he "natty?" The country has settled the last idea in its own mind, but the former lies with the future action of the Zionites.

Dowle should cool down before he reaches Zion City. Many a man has lost his battle by entering it in the wrong form.

LAWYERS AND LAWMAKING.

(Owensboro Inquirer.) A recent plea has been made for the simplification of the legal language, to deprive it of its circumlocutions, and reduce its technical verbiage to plain Anglo-Saxon, so that the way-faring man, though a fool, may understand it. These sonorous Latin terms and devious of procedure are a heritage from the early Anglo-Norman courts, which by enveloping the real meaning of the law in a cloak of obscurity, have tended to make it more difficult of comprehension, and to inspire ordinary people with an awe of its profundity. If shorn of technicalities and put in plain every-day terms no law should be beyond the comprehension of the average man.

The above thought is emphasized by the manner of procedure and enactment of laws in our lawyer-ridden congress where legislation is retarded by devotion to forms and precedents. A measure may be desirable, and fit the necessity that calls it forth, but it is hampered by the other 389 members in the house, and sent to the senate where the 90-wise men try to improve it, with the result that when it goes back to the house with the various amendments tacked on to it, it would be a wise parent indeed who knows his own offspring.

One of the defects of the composition of our congress is the predominance of lawyers in both branches. In the house of representatives out of 390 members, 239 are lawyers, while fifty out of ninety senators also belong to the legal profession.

The English look at a preponderance of lawyers in parliament as undesirable. As is well known, members of parliament receive no salary, and one of the arguments against it is that "One certain outcome would be a large increase in parliament of glib unscrupulous young lawyers, anxious to use parliament as a stepping stone to their own achievement."

This does not mean that lawyers are less desirable than any other profession, but the fact is that an assembly making laws for a nation should represent every class of people, instead of over half of each great body being of the legal profession.

This preponderance of lawyers has a natural tendency even with the highest aim in view, to clothe measures in so-called legal language, until the enactors themselves cannot tell whether they are constitutional or not.

The question of the number of lawyers in our national legislative body would not appear so important were it not that the most eminent of the profession today seem to devote their best efforts to showing their clients how they may safely break the laws and illustrating the old saying, "Tools make laws, and wise men break them."

County Court.

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot convened county court this morning but there was little business before him. The settlement with administrators, guardians, etc., constituted the business of the day's session.

GOAL ONE.

John Alexander, colored, charged with maliciously cutting his wife, was found guilty and given one year in the penitentiary this morning.

Magistrates' Courts.

Pletcher Terrell, of the Kentucky stock yards on South Third street, was fined one cent and costs in two cases Saturday afternoon in Justice Emery's court, for using abusive language towards Lee Crenshaw and threatening Attorney Mike Oliver. Crenshaw and the defendant got into a dispute resulting from an unsatisfactory mile sale, Crenshaw has filed a suit in McCracken circuit court to recover damages because of the alleged fraud practice in the mile transaction.

Mac Dowell, white, was fined $2 and costs for mistreating his wife in Justice Bleich's court Saturday.

Judge J. H. Burnett this morning called his docket but did not try any cases. His court docket this term is small.

Bankrupt Court.

An order in the case of the Evansville Brewing Co. against H. T. Hessig was made Monday authorizing a sale of fixtures in a saloon at 118 South Third street to satisfy a debt.

The brewing association holds a mortgage on the fixtures and Hessig was the last of many to assume responsibility.

An order of compromise in the claim of W. N. Levan against H. T. Hessig was filed today. Levan claimed $70, and the compromise is for $52.

Desk Assistant.

Miss Hulene McIlroy has been appointed desk assistant to Miss Mayne Baynum, librarian at the Carnegie library. Miss Baynum and her regular assistant, Miss Iruhye Corbett, will be for several weeks cataloguing books.

Jurors Excused.

R. C. Farthing, R. L. Fox, J. C. Martin, L. H. Ogilvie, Arch Sutherland and W. J. White were today excused as petit jurors and H. C. Hines, A. N. Hugg, J. M. Bell, J. Henry Smith, R. N. Phillips and W. E. Dickson substituted.

Gave a Worthless Check.

H. Suite, alias Shute, white, pleaded guilty to obtaining property by false pretenses, and was given one year in the penitentiary. He stole a portion of a diver's outfit from the Paducah Dry Docks and sold it to Ackerman, the second hand man, for $1.

License to Wed.

Charlie McDonald, age 22, of the city, and Dora McClure, age 23, of the city, colored, were licensed to wed today.

Motion Was Overruled.

Judge Reed this morning overruled the motion made by the defense to quash the indictment in the case of Henry Holloway, colored, charged with the murder of George Travis, and the case will go to trial this term, probably.

Attorneys Campbell & Campbell were employed by the defense and entered the motion last week and argued it before the court Friday. They alleged that the Fourteenth amendment to the United States constitution, provided against discrimination in court procedure, and attempted to show that Holloway had been discriminated against in the selection of juries, no colored men being empaneled. The attorneys produced evidence to show that negroes were intelligent enough and capable to sit on the jury, and also quoted supreme court decisions in support of their motion.

Judge Reed had held the matter under advisement until this morning when he announced he would overrule it. This is the first time this matter has been brought into the McCracken circuit court. It has been tested in other courts, some deciding one way and others another.

Ordered to Asylum.

Jane Turner of the city, a young woman of about 22 years, was this afternoon adjudged of unsound mind and was ordered taken to Hopkinsville.

She is not violent but has been in very poor health for some time, resulting in her becoming mentally unbalanced. The trial was brief and at the conclusion William English, of Marshall county, was appointed a committee to take her to the asylum.

Was Cut and Bruised.

Nettie Reynolds, age 14, an employee of the Mengenbacher-Horton Basket company, was struck on the head by a "form," a heavy part of a machine, this morning, and her scalp cut and bruised. The injury is not serious. It was dressed by Dr. J. S. Troutman.

INTERESTING COMMENT ON CITY

Mr. George A. Meyer, president of the Meyer Schmidt Gro. Co., St. Louis, was in the city Saturday, visiting his local house, Meyer, Schmidt, Clark & Co., and in an interview with a Sun reporter, who wished to know how he was satisfied with Paducah and his house here, said: The success we have already had convinces me of the importance of your city as a distributing point. We are located at the gateway of the south.

Our shipping facilities are excellent. You have three rivers at your very door and the Father of Waters as a near neighbor, also have fair railroad facilities. We now have nine salesmen and are on the lookout for more. In fact we want all the first class salesmen we can get who can produce business for us. I believe we can handle a sales force of 20 men in territory tributary to Paducah. This is one of a string of five houses we are operating in the Mississippi valley and with advantage this gives us in the purchasing of goods and the exclusive lines we control I believe our coming here will greatly improve Paducah as a grocery market. We now sell goods out of this house in Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky and Illinois, two of our salesmen being located over 200 miles from us, and are meeting with great success as to volume of business they are securing. We came to Paducah January 1 consolidating with Givens-Clark & Co., who were in business for two years and made an enviable record. But since we put in "Our Pride" line of high grade edibles and a better assorted stock of goods than ever before carried in this market, we have shown a great increase each month. With young blood at the helm who know their business, we feel the future will bring success far beyond what we anticipated when we came here.

Mr. W. C. Clark, who is president of this house, originated the Givens-Clark & Co. business and operated it successfully for two years. Previous to this he was connected with Weeks Bros. & Co. for several years. His thorough knowledge of the business and this market is of great benefit to us. Mr. De Werther, the treasurer, is one of our St. Louis boys who has been very successful in the grocery line and traveled for some time out of our city.

INVITED TO PREACH

People and Pleasant Events

REV. CALVIN THOMPSON TO VISIT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

If Acceptable He May Be Called As Pastor of the Congregation.

Rev. Calvin Thompson, pastor of the First Baptist church at Denver, Colo., a prominent western minister, will come to Paducah to preach Sunday. He is coming on trial to be considered as the successor of the late Rev. J. S. Cheek, and is at present the only minister being considered.

The matter of selecting a pastor to fill the vacancy was referred to a committee composed of deacons and several members of the congregation. The committee wrote to Rev. Thompson inviting him to come to Paducah to preach and a telegram was received this morning stating he would be here Sunday.

The committee will confer with Rev. Thompson after his sermon and if he is suitable will recommend him to the congregation. The selection is to be made by a vote of the congregation.

CONGRESS THIS WEEK.

Forecast of the Probable Doings of the Body.

Washington, April 9.—The Senate will continue this week to discuss the railroad rate bill, and indications fail to support Senator Tillman's prediction that the week will witness the termination of the general debate. Conservative senators, who are opposing the house bill, are still standing out for a sweeping provision for a court of review.

Another week is to be devoted to the postoffice appropriation bill in the house of representatives. Demands for recognition will make it impossible to reach the details of the bill before Wednesday. To complete it will consume the remainder of the week.

General legislation will be suspended today that the house may sit in a city council for the District of Columbia. There is to be a general reply to the democratic tariff speeches by Col. Hepburn, of Iowa, probably on Tuesday. He will pay particular attention to the showing made last week by Mr. Rainey, of Illinois, on the question of the importation of American watch movements which had been sold abroad.

Made an Out and Out Offer.

This afternoon late the committee to which negotiations with Col. R. G. Caldwell, relative to the sale of the Longfellow school property was referred, will meet and further discuss the matter. Col. Caldwell made the committee an out and out offer for the property and it is understood the committee will recommend it to the school board. The meeting this afternoon is to further decide on the report to make the board.

THE CHURCHES

"PALM SUNDAY" OBSERVANCE YESTERDAY BY CATHOLICS AND EPISCOPALIANS.

The Revivals at Broadway M. E. and Second Baptists Being Marked With Success.

Yesterday was Palm Sunday and the day was beautifully and impressively celebrated with appropriate services.

At the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church there were services at 8 and 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Branches of palms were distributed during the high mass at 10:30 a. m., as is the beautiful yearly custom. "Palms" was sung by Mr. R. D. MacMillen at this hour.

At Grace Episcopal church, Palm Sunday was observed with especial services at 7:30 and 10:45 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. Holy Baptism was administered in the afternoon.

Four services were held yesterday at the Broadway Methodist church, conducted by Rev. J. B. Culpepper and son Rev. Burt Culpepper, the evangelists who are in charge of the protracted meeting there.

The services at 9:15 a. m. and 3 p. m. were especially for children and young people and were in charge of the Rev. Burt Culpepper, who is particularly adapted to this work and has created deep interest in the young people attending his services. Large crowds were present at both services.

Rev. J. B. Culpepper preached at 11 a. m. on "What Think Ye of Christ?" a fine and eloquent sermon which was attended by much feeling and interest. His sermon at night was on the subject of "Sin" and was a strong and forcible presentation of the theme. There were 50 applications for church membership made yesterday.

Services will be held this week as follows: 10 a. m., 4:15 p. m. and 7:30 p. m. A cordial invitation is given the public to attend.

The revival at the Second Baptist church is attended with increasing interest. Rev. E. B. Farrar, of Louisville, preached yesterday morning, afternoon and night to a crowded house, hundreds being turned away. So great was the interest evinced that the church is contemplating erecting a tent in which to accommodate the crowds.

There were nine additions to the church yesterday, and there have been 60 conversions so far.

Services will be held this week each day at noon at the railroad shops and at 2 p. m. at 7:15 p. m.

Rev. Gordon W. Hill, who is temporarily in charge of the First Baptist church, preached yesterday morning, having as her special guest her sister, Mrs. Bockman, of Paducah.

Says the Frankfort Journal of 7:

Mr. Frank A. Lucas, of Paducah, state revenue agent, was in the city yesterday getting figures for some new tax bills.

Miss Ruby Flack, of Mayfield, visited in Paducah yesterday.

Attorneys Pete Seny and Sam Crossland, of Mayfield, are in the city attending circuit court.

Mrs. Kelley Charlton returned from Roaz Station this morning after visiting relatives.

Mr. Thomas Baskette returned to Nashville this morning after a business trip to the city.

Mr. Stonewall Pollock returned to La Center this morning after a short visit to relatives.

Mr. R. E. Fulmer, foreman of the local L. C. shops, has returned from Louisville where he had been on business.

Mr. John Bryant, the foreman of Station No. 1, is out after a brief illness of the grippe.

Mrs. B. B. Griffith is improving slowly after a serious attack of a complication of diseases.

Mr. Tom Stroud will leave tonight for Oakland, Cal., to work for the Southern Pacific road. He is a boilermaker and has been with the I. C. here.

Mr. J. W. Stokes and family have removed to California to reside.

Mrs. John R. Scott, of Nashville, Tenn., is visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Greer, on Jefferson street.

Miss Josephine Gardiner, of Quogue, Long Island, will arrive in this city tonight to visit Miss Fithian.

Services will be held this evening.

WASHINGTON TEAM COMING SATURDAY

First Game of The Season With "The Senators."

Some of the Paducah Players Arrived and Reported Today for Duty.

OTHERS COMING IN DAILY

Manager Lloyd today closed arrangements with the Washington team of the American league for two games with his Indians, next Saturday and Sunday. These will be the first games of the season, and will give the local fans an opportunity to get line on Lloyd's hopefuls for this season, and it will be taken advantage of.

Some of the players reported for duty this morning, and practice will be started at the park at once. The other players will be coming in every day now, and the ball park will be the Mecca for all true lovers of the sport from now till frost.

Manager Lloyd says he will have a far faster team than he had last year, and the fans who are close students of the game, and know all the players agree with him. However, the new teams in the league this year are unknown factors to be reckoned with, and the Indians may not have the run-a-way time they had for so long last year. It would be better for the game, too, that they should not.

The Washington team of the American league is a good organization. It played a fine article of ball last season, and the first of the season took the measure of any team that went up against it, for a while heading the league. However, sickness of the manager and some of the best players put it out of the running for so long it did not figure in the pennant race. This year the team is intact again, and the Paducah fans will see some of the best ball players in the country in the games Saturday and Sunday.

Roedel, who played left field for Vincennes the first season that town formed a part of the Kitty league, has contracted consumption and his ball playing days are over.

Roedel was a man of medium size, possibly just a little heavy for his height, but had the most remarkable "wing" of any player in the league. He often threw men out at first base from left field, and thefeat from throwing from deep left to home plate was a small matter with Roedel. He was a lightning fielder and during the winter won his bread by singing on the vaudeville stage. He did not play ball last year.

"Brownie" McClain and "Red" Perry, of Cincinnati, arrived last night and are ready for working out. They are both in excellent health, having experienced no illness during the winter. This makes eight players here including Lloyd and Brahe.

In the afternoon Rev. Mark Levy, a converted Jew, native of London, England, told the story of his life and conversion at this church. It was a very interesting recital. Mr. Levy dated his first conviction from reading the New Testament, though it was some time before he left his faith. He stated that when he was en route from Australia to the United States he met the Kentucky Evangelist George O. Barnes, and it was the glimpse into the religion and life of this man and his family that made him take the decisive step. He was converted over 20 years ago, and is now in the general evangelistic work. He is a very interesting speaker, deeply in earnest.

The Jewish passover will begin tonight and for seven days thereafter orthodox Jews will eat only unleavened bread. This is in remembrance of the deliverance of Israel's first born from the judgment wrought on the first born of the Egyptians, and also commemorates the liberation of the Hebrews from Egyptian bondage. The beginning of the festival is at sunset this evening, the fourteenth day of the month Nisan of the Hebrew calendar, and the celebration is one of the most solemn and beautiful in the Jewish ritual.

Services will be held this evening.

Services for Holy Week will be observed at the St. Francis de Sales Catholic church as follows: Especial masses on Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings. Services on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings.

At Grace Episcopal church holy communion will be every morning at 10:45, except Saturday. Evening prayer and address on Tuesday and Thursday at 7:30, and Wednesday and Friday at 7:30.

Confirmation services were held yesterday morning at the German Lutheran church on South Fourth, and the rite was administered to a class of 14. The church was beautifully decorated with palms and ferns.

Services for the observance of Palm Sunday were held yesterday at the German Evangelical church on South Fifth street. Rev. Wm. Bourquin examined a class of 12 yesterday who will be confirmed next Sunday.

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused It to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1809, coming from a good, old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert and investigating mind, an earnest seeker after knowledge, and above all, possessed of a wonderfully sympathetic nature.

In 1834 she married Isaac Pinkham, a builder and real estate operator, and their early married life was marked by prosperity and happiness. They had four children, three sons and a daughter.

In those good old fashioned days it was common for mothers to make their own home medicines from roots and herbs, nature's own remedies—calling in a physician only in specially urgent cases. By tradition and experience many of them gained a wonderful knowledge of the curative properties of the various roots and herbs.

Mrs. Pinkham took a great interest in the study of roots and herbs, their characteristics and power over disease. She maintained that just as nature so bountifully provides in the harvest-fields and orchards vegetable foods of all kinds; so, if we but take the pains to find them, in the roots and herbs of the field there are remedies expressly designed to cure the various ills and weaknesses of the body, and it was her pleasure to search these out, and prepare simple and effective medicines for her own family and friends.

Chief of these was a rare combination of the choicest medicinal roots and herbs found best adapted for the cure of the ills and weaknesses peculiar to the female sex, and Lydia E. Pinkham's friends and neighbors learned that her compound relieved and cured and it became quite popular among them.

All this so far was done freely, without money and without price, as a labor of love.

But in 1873 the financial crisis struck Lynn. Its length and severity were too much for the large real estate interests of the Pinkham family, as this class of business suffered most from fearful depression, so when the Centennial year dawned it found their property swept away. Some other source of income had to be found.

At this point Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was made known to the world.

The three sons and the daughter, with their mother, combined forces to

KENTUCKY NEWSLETTERS

Investigating Alleged Bribery. Frankfort, Ky., April 9.—The Franklin county grand jury has begun the investigation recommended to it by Circuit Judge Stout of alleged corruption and undue influence having been used in the reciters' tax fight before the regular and special session of the general assembly just closed. The editor and all employees of the Kentucky Journal, a local paper, which daily published such rumors, were before the jury yesterday. Following their testimony certain members of the assembly may be summoned here. Judge Stout talked vigorously to the jury on the subject of bribery and lobbying and told the members of it that they should indict the person guilty of the paper bringing the charge for libel.

Thorne Acting Governor. Frankfort, Ky., April 9.—Lieutenant Governor Thorne arrived here yesterday and became acting governor during the absence of the governor at French Lick Springs, Ind. Gov. Beckham will be away for about ten days.

Took Dose of Bug Poison.

Glasgow, Ky., April 9.—Ned Turner, the 14-year-old son of Mr. Jim Turner, who lives near Goodnight, six miles from here, in this county, died Friday night from accidental poisoning. The child, in company with several companions, was playing around the house when they found a bottle of bug poison, which the Turner child thought was whiskey. Cautioning his companions to say nothing of the find, he took two large swallows from the bottle and in a short time became deathly ill. By the time a physician reached him he was having convulsions and suffered untold agonies until death relieved him.

Arson Taken By Mistake.

Fulton, Ky., April 9.—A mother's mistake came near costing Miss Georgia Pierce her life Friday afternoon. Miss Pierce was sick, and her mother, Mrs. Devro Pierce, was giving her a course of paregoric. Sitting on the table by the paregoric bottle was a bottle of solution of arsenic. The two bottles looked just alike, and when Mrs. Pierce went to give her daughter a dose of paregoric she got hold of the wrong bottle and gave her a teaspoonful of "Solution of Arsenic." Several physicians were hastily summoned and within an hour's time, with the aid of a stomach pump the sufferer was relieved.

Friends Fire Into School.

Mr. Sterling, Ky., April 9.—Ed Carpenter, white, and Bud Tibbs, colored, made an attack on Ryan school house, three miles from Flemingsburg, by firing pistol shots through the windows. There were thirty children in the room, and the plucky schoolma'am, Miss Edie Schultz, eighteen years of age, shut the doors and ordered them to lie down. She then jumped out of a window in the rear of the building and ran nearly half a mile to a farmhouse and telephoned to the authorities. The sheriff with a posse of twenty men, responded and landed the men in jail. A lynching seemed certain, but cooler heads prevailed upon the crowd to let the law take its course. Carpenter and Tibbs are notorious characters.

Behind the Bars.

Lexington, Ky., April 7.—Benjamin Stewart was held to the grand jury under bail of $5,000 Saturday on the charge of killing James Strader, the young Lexington man who died from wounds received while he was hunting ducks at Lake Ellerslie near here.

He failed to furnish the bond and was ordered to jail by Judge Bullock to await the action of the grand jury.

Absolute Divorce Without Alimony. Hopkinsville, Ky., April 8.—Maj. Cyrus C. Radford, of the United States navy, was granted an absolute divorce from his wife, Florence R. Radford, with a discontinuance of alimony. The couple were separated five years ago, and Maj. Radford was granted a divorce after three years' no go with alimony. The suit was for a final adjudication, the former wife suing for further alimony. The court's decision stops all alimony and makes the divorce absolute. Mrs. Radford now lives in New York City, and Maj. Radford, whose home is in this county, is stationed at Philadelphia.

Watch Found on Historic Ground.

Paris, Ky., April 9.—While walking over the historic old Blue Licks battlefield, near Blue Licks Springs, in Nicholas county, Robert Abney found a watch embedded in the leaves and soil, where it had evidently lain for many years. Expert watchmakers who examined the timepiece say they are positive that there has not been a watch of similar pattern manufactured in the past one hundred and fifty years. The old timepiece is in excellent condition and registers time accurately. The watch is of English make. It is thought likely that it was lost by some visitor to the springs.

Handsome New School House. Murray, Ky., April 9.—The contract to build the new school house was let last Saturday. Jim Hicks and George Aycock got the contract at $16,140. This is to be a handsome structure in every respect, MARSHAL SOULT.

English Views of the Famous Lieutenant of Napoleon.

"When I had Soult as my opponent I could eat, drink and amuse myself without fear of being surprised. It was not that he failed to be a great commander. He was wonderful in his way; he knew how to collect 100,000 men at a fixed point on a fixed date, but when he had collected them he never knew the least in the world what to do with them."

So said Wellington, and on this occasion he actually ate Soult's dinner, which was in course of preparation for him. But, though the capture of the French marshal seemed inevitable, he was already "beyond the toils, having by a supreme effort extricated himself from peril as fearful as ever beset a general."

It was a masterly retreat, and throughout it he was not only watching for the best advantages to be gained, but testing the spirit of his men. His hand was almost on their pulses, his eye was ever watchful, and suddenly, by a stroke almost threatening in its effect, he "drew up the troops, 20,000 in number, on the position he had occupied two months before at the battle of Braga," thus rousing the spirits of his soldiers.

He continued the retreat, facing every difficulty of country and weather, but never deterred, and finally crossed the Cava do "in full time, for the English guns were thundering on the rear."

He had lost about 5,000 men; he had entered Portugal with fifty-eight pieces of artillery; he returned without a gun. —Colonel J. Hanbury Williams, C. V. O., C. M. G., in Blackwood's Magazine.

THE NAMES HE USED.

They Helped to Sell the Wonderful Works of Whistler.

Though the peculiar nomenclature Whistler adopted for the output of his brush and needle inevitably in its novelty excited ridicule and censure and was surely adopted, just as his artistic ornaibam was carefully cultivated, mainly as an advertisement to attract the custom of the hunter after art novelties and art bargains even as his wand and flat brushwood hat were assumed to mark him out to "the man in the street," there is no little to be said in favor of such nomenclature by those who recognize the sisterhood of the various fine arts. Whistler's early days were passed in an atmosphere of music, and, apart from the masterful craving of erratic genius for novelty and his appreciation on reaching manhood and looking forth on the world of the value of new processes in systematic self advertising, it was therefore not unnatural that he should use musical terminology in giving titles to the output of his work in graphic art. Why should he not speak of that work as symphonies or harmonies in white, in green, in blue, in gray or what not? Why should the word "arrangement" be confined to musical notes? Is not what is perhaps his masterpiece, his mother's portrait, really and truly, as children say, an "arrangement" in black and gray?—Critic.

Crusade Taken By Mistake.

In weak persons bleeding at the nose is frequently hurtful and should be stopped without delay, as continued hemorrhage may prove fatal if neglected.

Those who suffer from poorness of blood or anemia and are sometimes seized with violent nosebleeding should avoid as far as possible anything which may tend to bring it on. Gentle exercise only should be taken, as violent bodily movements may provoke a repetition of the hemorrhage. Even running downstairs hastily should be avoided. Bleeding at the nose is usually a sign that something is wrong with the system. The cause should, if possible, be discovered and steps taken to remove it.

Survival of the Fittest.

In Ireland from time immemorial candidates for political honors have had to cope not only with Irish brains, but with the noble Irish oak in the shape of a shillalah, a fact which illuminates a reminiscence of Galway, found in Blackwood's Magazine.

When George IV visited Ireland an election for Galway was pending. A gentleman, who came up to Dublin to attend his levee, which candidate would probably be returned.

Exceptions.

Hardy—She may be well educated, as you say, but she uses very singular expressions. Tardy—She does? Hardy—Yes. Yesterday, for instance, she spoke of a musical concert. Tardy—Wasn't that correct? Hardy—Certainly not. It wasn't necessary to say "musical" in speaking of a concert. A concert must be musical. Tardy—Must, eh? Well, I've been to some that were not.

CALLOWAY CIRCUIT COURT.

Court Today at Murray, but no Court House or Records.

Calloway circuit court convened this morning at Murray, Calloway county, but there was no court house and very few records to work in. Judge Thomas Cook started in this morning to rebuild the judiciary department of Calloway county, and will have a long and hard pull, of course.

The court house at Murray burned Tuesday night, the 30th, and all save a few records were destroyed with the building. The only way the records can be replaced is by a vigorous canvas of the legal profession practicing in that court, and it will require months to replace those records which are of the most importance.

The criminal department will be comparatively little affected by the fire, but the civil cases will be hopelessly tangled for years to come.

Thin His Water.

The Capitol guide was telling two New England school teachers in the senate gallery interesting things about the senators below.

"There are several of them," he said, "that have eaten too many society dinners and drunk too much firewater."

"Oh, how dreadful in our public men," said one of the teachers. "But there is handsome Senator Lodge. He doesn't drink, does he?"

"Oh, no," replied the guide. "He is a teetotaler. He even thins his water."

A TALE OF THE THIRD GENERATION

By HARRY LEON WILSON

Copyright, by Lothrop Publishing Company.

It appeared that Percival had been right in supposing that Mrs. Dremler might be led to regard Psyche's proposal in a light entirely rational. She was reluctant, at first, it is true.

"It's awfully dear of you to ask me, child, but really, I'm afraid it will be quite impossible. Oh!—for reasons which you, of course, with your endless bank account, cannot at all comprehend. You see, we old New York families have a secure position here by right of birth; and even when we are forced to practice little economies in dress and household management it doesn't count against us—so long as we stay here. Now, Newport is different. One cannot economize gracefully there—not even one of us. There are quiet and very decent places for those of us that must." But at Newport one must not fail behind in display. A sense of loyalty to the others, a noblesse oblige, compels one to be as lavish as those flamboyant outsiders who go there. One doesn't want them to report, you know, that such and such families of our smart set are falling behind for lack of means. So, while we of the real stock are chumming enough here, where there are only us in a position to observe ourselves, there is a sort of tacit agreement that only those shall go to Newport who are able to keep up the pace. One need not, for one season or so, be a cottager; but, for example, in the matter of dress, one must be sinfully lavish. Really, child, I could spend three months in the Englands for the price of one decent month at Newport; the parasols, gloves, fans, shoes, "frillies"—enough to stock the Rue de la Paix, to say nothing of gowns—but why do you run on? Here am I with a few simple summer things, fit enough indeed for the quiet place we shall reach for July and August, but absolutely impossible for Newport—so say no more about it, dear. You're a sweet—but it's madness to think of it."

"And I had," reported Psyche to her mother that night, "such a time getting her to agree. At first she wouldn't listen at all. Then, after I'd just fairly begged her, she admitted she might because she's taken such a fancy to me and hates to leave me—but she was sensitive about what people might say. I told her they'd never have a chance to say a word; and she was anxious Percival should know, because she says he's so cynical about New York people since that Milbrey girl made such a set for him; and at last she called me a dear and consented, though she'd been looking forward to a quiet summer. To-morrow early we start out for the shops!"

So it came that the three members of the Bines family pursued during the summer their respective careers of diversion under conditions most satisfactory to each.

The steam yacht Viluca, chartered by Percival, was put into commission early in June. Her first cruise of ten days was a signal triumph. Her eight guests were the men with whom he had played poker so tirelessly during the winter. Perhaps the most illuminating log of that cruise may be found in the reply of one of them whom Percival invited for another early in July.

"Much obliged, old man, but I haven't touched a drop now in over three weeks. My doctor says I must let it be for at least two months, and I mean to stick by him. Awfully kind of you, though!"

CHAPTER XV.

THE SIGHT OF A NEW BEAUTY, AND SOME ADVICE FROM HIGBEE.

In from the shining sea late one afternoon steamed the Viluca. As her chain was rattling through the hawse-holes, Percival, with his sister and Mauburn, came on deck.

"Why, there's the Chicago—Higbee's yacht."

"That's the boat," said Mauburn, "that's been piling the white water up in front of her all afternoon trying to overhaul us."

"There's Millie Higbee and old Silas, now."

"And, as I live," exclaimed Psyche, "there's the Baron de Faliac between them!"

"Sure enough," said her brother. "We must call me up to see him dressed in those sweet, pretty yachting flannels. Oh, there you are!" as Mrs. Bines joined them. "Just take this glass and treat yourself to a look at your old friend, the baron. You'll notice he has one on—see—they're waving to us."

"Doesn't the baron look just too distinguished beside Mr. Higbee?" said Psyche, watching them.

"And doesn't Higbee look just too Chicago beside the baron?" replied her brother.

The Higbee craft cut her way gracefully up to an anchorage near the Viluca, and launches from both yachts now prepared to land their people. At the landing Percival telephoned for a carriage. While they were waiting the Higbee party came ashore.

"Hello!" said Higbee, "if I'd known that was you we were chasing I'd have put on steam and left you out of sight."

"It's much better you didn't recognize us; these boiler explosions are so messy."

"Know the baron here?"

"Of course we know the baron. Ah, baron!"

"Ah, hal very charmed, Mr. Bines and Miss Bines. It's of a long time that we are not encountered."

He was radiant; they had never before seen him thus. Mrs. Higbee ing to the Mayson? So are we. See you again to-night. We're off for Bar Harbor early to-morrow."

"Looks as if there were something doing there," said Percival, as they drove off the wharf.

"Of course, stupid!" said his sister; "that's plain; only it isn't doing, ma?"

"For a French person," observed Mrs. Bines, guardedly, "I always liked the baron."

"Of course," said her son, to Mauburn's mystification, "and the noblest men on this earth have to wear 'em."

The surmise regarding the Baron de Pallais and Millie Higbee proved to be correct. Percival came upon Higbee in the meditative enjoyment of his after-dinner cigar, out on the broad piazza.

"I suppose you're on," he began; "the girl's engaged to that Frenchy."

"Congratulate him," said Percival, heartily.

"A real baron," continued Higbee. "I looked him up and made sure of that; title's good as wheat. God knows that never would 'a' got me, out the madam was set on it, and the girl, too, and I had to give in. It seemed to be a question of him or some actor. The madam said I'd had my way about Hank, puttin' his poor stubby nose to the grindstone out there in Chicago, and makin' a plain insignificant business man out of him, and I'd ought to let her have her way with the girl, being that I couldn't expect her to go to work, too. So Mill will work the society end. I say to the madam, I say: 'All right, have your own way; and we'll see whether you make more out of the girl than I make out of the boy.' I says. But it ain't going to be all digging up. I've made the baron promise to go into business for the French trade. This baron'll cost me more'n that sign I showed you coming out of the old town, and he won't give any such returns, but the crest on them jars, printed in three colors and gold, will be a bulky nd; and it kept the women quiet," he concluded, apologetically.

"The baron's a good fellow," said Percival.

"Sure," replied Higbee. "They're all good fellows. Hank had the makin's

NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athlete have dry spina and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and intestines. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food eaten is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Then the stomach is really the vital organ of humanity. If the stomach is weak the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body, considered as a whole, is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body is a consequence of the weakness of the stomach.

Mr. Louis Pans, of Quebec, writes: "For several days my health was failing. My head grew dizzy, my pains increased and my appetite was gone all the time, while everything I would eat would seem to lie heavy like lead in my stomach. I was very weak and fatigued. It was sympathetic trouble due to dyspepsia and prescribed for me and although I took these powders regularly yet I felt no better. My wife, Mrs. Pans, suggested that I take Dr. Medical Discovery and stop taking the doctor's medicine. She bought me a bottle and I began to improve, so I kept up the treatment. In a few days my stomach became normal, the digestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a man again. I can never cease to be grateful for what you medicine has done for me and I certainly give it highest praise."

"To gain knowledge of your own body—in sickness and health—send for the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A book of 1000 pages. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R. V. Flipse, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y."

of a good fellow in him. And any young man, that reminds me; I hear all kinds of reports about your getting to be one yourself. Now I knew your father, Daniel J. Bines, and I liked him, and I like you; and I hope you won't get huffy, but from what they tell me you ain't doing yourself a hit of good."

"Don't believe all you hear," laughed Percival.

"Well, I'll tell you one thing plain, if you was my son, you'd fade right back to the packing house along with Henry-boy. It's a pity you ain't got some one to shut down on you that way. They tell me you got your father's capacity for carrying liquor, and I hear you're known from one end of Broadway to the other as the easiest mark that ever came to town. They say you couldn't walk in your sleep without spending money. Now, excuse my plain speaking, but there are two reputations that are mighty hard to live up to beyond a certain limit. They've put lots of good weight-carriers off the track before they was due to go. I hear you got pinched in that wheat deal of Burman's?"

"Oh, only for a few hundred thousand. The reports of our losses were exaggerated. And we stood to win over."

"Yes—you stood to win, and then you went 'way back and set down,' as the saying is. But it ain't the money. You've got too much of that, anyway. Lord knows, it's this everlasting hulabaloo and the drink that goes with it, and the general trifling sort of a dub it makes out of a young fellow. It's a pity you ain't my son; that's all I got to say. I want to see you again along in September after I get back from San Francisco; I'm going to try to get you interested in some business. That'd be good for you."

"You're kind, Mr. Higbee, and really I appreciate all you say; but you'll see me settle down pretty soon, quick as I get my bearings, and be a credit to the state of Montana."

After they had gone away Percival sat reviving the paternal warnings of Higbee. He considered them seriously. He decided he ought to think more about what he was doing and what he should do. He decided, too, that he could think better with something mechanical to occupy his hands. He took a cab and was driven to the local branch of his favorite temple of chance, His host welcomed him at the door.

"Ah, Mr. Bines, a little recreation, eh? Your favorite dealer, Dutson, is here to-night, if you prefer bank."

Passing through the crowded, brightly-lighted rooms to one of the faro tables, where his host promptly secured a seat for him, he played meditatively until one o'clock; adding materially to his host's reasons for believing he had done wisely to follow his New York clients to their summer an-

Male Flea Caught at Cairo.

Cairo, Ill., April 9.—The body of a white man was found in the Ohio river near the Halliday elevator yesterday afternoon about 3 o'clock.

The remains are evidently those of a river man, about 50 years of age, weighing about 185 pounds, 5 feet

9 inches in height, bald, smooth face and of dark complexion.

It is reported that the man's name was McDonald, but there was nothing on his body by which to identify him. One dollar was found in his pocket.

Miss Barriger Sent to Hopkinsville.

Mayfield, Ky., April 9.—Miss Belle Barriger, aged 52 years, of near Lowes, brought to the city Saturday and tried before Judge Ed Crossland and adjudged of unsound mind. She was ordered confined in the state institute at Hopkinsville for treatment and it is thought her reason will soon be restored as she has only been affected but a few weeks. She was unaccompanied by her brother, S. E. Barriger, of the county, and L. M. Palmer, of Mayfield.

Three Sentenced for Murder.

Frankfort, Ky., April 9.—Sheriff Allen Nantz, of Leslie county, has arrived with John Duff, who was given a life sentence; Boyd Duff, ten years, and Jake Wilson, five years, respectively, for conspiracy in the murder of Joe Wilson at the turkey shooting match in Leslie county last Christmas day.

Their trials occurred at Lyden last week. Deputy Sheriff McRoberts was killed in the same fight by some party for a long time unknown. Several were arrested for his murder, but none convicted.

"And who's this wants more help until her husband's profession picks up again?" asked Percival.

"Oh, that's a poor little woman I helped. They call her husband 'the Terrible Iceman'."

"But this is just the season for ice-men."

"Well," confessed his mother, with manifest reluctance, "he's a prize-fighter, or something."

Psyche gasped.

Divorced Kentuckians Remarry.

Cairo, April 9.—Alexander Duley and Eleonora J. Underhill, of Barlow, Ky., were united in marriage Saturday at the court house in this city.

The bride and groom were husband

VESEVIUS' ERUPTION.

The Present the Worst Outbreak Since 1872.

Vesuvius has been vigorously asserting itself since 1897 at various intervals demonstrating that this fearful volcano is still very much alive. But not since April, 1872, has this mountain of fire been so active as at present, although there was a considerable flow of lava in 1878 and severe eruptions in 1895, 1896 and a few years ago.

Since ages long past Vesuvius has been drowning humanity in a sea of flowing fire. Beneath its awful slopes lie the dust of countless thousands of human beings. For centuries after the destruction of Pompeii and Herculanum it remained quiet, but Dec. 16, 1851, it burst forth again in fury, the eruptions continuing nearly three months. Four towns were almost destroyed and the loss of life was 18,000. The next grand eruption was in 1779, when huge streams of lava were poured out, carrying death and destruction. In 1794 there was another terrible outburst.

The 1822 outbreak marked an epoch in the deadly operations of Vesuvius, for since that time the mountain has not been wholly quiet. The eruptions, however, were comparatively harmless until 1855 when, amidst terrific detonations, the cone again was rent asunder. The flow of lava continued for twenty-seven days, destroying hundreds of houses and miles of cultivated fields.

A slight eruption in 1858 was followed in 1861 by a fierce gush of lava for the third time destroying Torre del Greco.

The terrible outbreak of 1872 practically began April 24, but for months prior to that time there were premonitions of impending disaster. On April 26 molten rocks and lava gushed forth in two streams, and a short distance down the mountain side were joined by a third stream. The earth trembled and heaved, and the streets of Naples were several inches deep with sand.

The more recent eruptions in 1900 and 1902 also were severe. The eruption in 1903 occurred on Aug. 26, a clear stream of lava fifteen feet in diameter being thrown 700 feet into the air. Panic prevailed in Naples and in the surrounding villages, but no lives were lost.

No Race Suicide in Muhlenberg.

Central City, Ky., April 9.—Muhlenberg county claims the "most fatherly" man in the state. Mr. William Allen, who had twenty-four children, four by his first wife, and twenty by his last. Others are Meredith Walker, who has had twenty-one children, all of whom had the same mother; William Greenwood, who had twenty children and only one wife; and Elijah Dukes who had eighteen children, all having the same mother, and there are many families in the county with sixteen children. These fathers would be highly elated if their efforts to place their native town in a higher class by increasing their population should secure for them an autograph letter from President Roosevelt.

IS TO RETURN TO CITY.

Young Man Who Left Under Fright Will Come Back.

G. E. Wilson, who was indicted for alleged false swearing, will return to Paducah to engage in business, arriving about the 15th of the month.

The young man was formerly an agent for a Lexington Insurance Co., and while in litigation in a magistrate's court became confused and swore to several facts and later contradicted himself. He was indicted, but skipped his bond. The commonwealth attorney investigated the matter and found that Wilson did not wilfully and intentionally swear falsely, and recommended that the indictment be filed away. It was and will not be re-instated, it is said.

Wilson is a well known young man and was a victim of "court fright," which probably made him testify as he did. He intends to start up in business in Paducah within a few weeks after arrival.

NOVEL WAY TO KEEP THEM.

Policeman Snaps Buttons From the Trousers of Tramps.

Cleveland, April 9.—Capt. Bevier, of the Erie railroad police, captured twenty-four tramps. They were arraigned in police court and Judge Whelan gave them twenty-four hours in which to leave Cleveland.

Bevier found the twenty-four hobos in a box car and with a revolver lined them up.

"About face!" ordered Bevier, and the twenty-four turned their backs. "I'm sorry to do it," he said as he pulled out a large pocket knife and snipped off the tramps' buttons of every one, "but I can't take a chance of having you run away."

Down went twenty-four pairs of hands into twenty-four pairs of pockets as the twenty-four prisoners felt their buttons snipped away.

"I didn't lose a man all the way to the station," Capt. Bevier told Judge Whelan. "I kept them so busy keeping their trousers on, they did not think of trying to escape."

Attention, Veterans of Forrest's Cavalry Corps!

Headquarters Forrest's Cavalry Corps, Hickman, Ky., March 23, 1906:—

1. By an article of our organization every soldier of any and all arms of service who at any time during the war served under Gen. N. B. Forrest and remained true and faithful to the cause unto the end is entitled to recognition and membership in the corps.

II. All field and company officers now living are hereby reappointed to the same positions, with same rank, as held by them at the close of the war, and are hereby directed to at once notify every member of their old commands to meet them in New Orleans, April 25th, 26th and 27th.

III. Officers and members of this corps are hereby notified to assemble in the Washington Artillery hall, New Orleans, at 10 a. m., April 26th, and attend a business meeting of the corps.

IV. All officers and members are requested to register at said building on the 26th, and to those so registering a beautiful souvenir metal badge will be given, suitable to be worn on all occasions as a badge of honor. By order of

FIGHTING THE MOSQUITO.

The director of the Breslau hygienic institute has announced the results of his mosquito war experiments. The first object was to destroy the egg-bearing females, which were found in large numbers in Breslau cellars. Fumigation was used, and the number falling on the papers placed on the floors often ran up to more than 2,000 mosquitoes. To destroy the larvae in pools of water fifty grains of "larvicide" was put into a cubic metre of water and poured into the pool. This kills all the larvae within half an hour, but does not harm frogs and fish. To destroy the pupae is another question which will receive attention from now on. Breslau seems to be the first city in Europe to make a systematic war against this plague.

Three hundred officers of the church have signed a statement upholding General Overseer Voliva in his fight against the "first Apostle." Each member of the Zion City community will tomorrow be asked to swear allegiance to the present officers of the church, and at the mass meeting which is to be held in the afternoon all of the people will be asked to put their signatures to a document renouncing their former leader. Together with this action Overseer Voliva has declared that he will announce in detail the alleged misappropriation by Dowle of funds aggregating $2,529,000.

WANTS A REPORT.

Washington, April 9.—Comptroller of the currency this morning issued a call for a report of the condition of the national banks at the close of business April 6.

In the race of life it is horse sense that helps a man to win out in a walk.

HISTORY OF OUR COUNTRY.

The cent was first proposed by our own Robert Morris, the great financier of the revolution, and was named by Jefferson two years after it began to make its appearance from the mint in 1792. It bore the head of Washington on one side and 13 links on the other. The French revolution soon created a rage for French ideas in America, which put on the cent—instead of the head of the Goddess of Liberty—a French Liberty, with neck thrust forward and downlocks. The chain on the reverse side was displaced by the olive branch of peace, but the French Liberty was short lived and so was the portrait on our cent. The next head or figure that succeeded this—the staid classic dame with a fillet around her hair—came into fashion about 30 or 40 years ago, and her finely chiseled Grecian features have been but slightly altered by the lapse of time.

The young man was formerly an agent for a Lexington Insurance Co., and while in litigation in a magistrate's court became confused and swore to several facts and later contradicted himself. He was indicted, but skipped his bond. The commonwealth attorney investigated the matter and found that Wilson did not wilfully and intentionally swear falsely, and recommended that the indictment be filed away. It was and will not be re-instated, it is said.

Wilson is a well known young man and was a victim of "court fright," which probably made him testify as he did. He intends to start up in business in Paducah within a few weeks after arrival.

A CORNFIELD LAWYER.

No phrase which Senator Tillman has used recently has evoked more comment than his characterization of himself as a "cornfield lawyer." This is a racy way of disparaging his own abilities. Mariners have their "sea lawyers" who are usually very disputatious persons called "lawyers" because they are glib talkers and given to wordy arguments. At the White House, it is stated, Mr. Tillman's phrase was received with expressions of delight. President Roosevelt thinks it will live—and possibly it will.—Baltimore Sun.

ADRIANOS.

In regard to adrianos a writer in the Connisseur points out the curious fact that the older specimens rarely come in pairs, but are of different heights and sizes. It was the custom in the middle ages, it seems, to make them uneven so as to facilitate the moving and raising of the huge blocks employed for firewood. He continues:

In the middle ages they were also planned to hold a spit, and it was not until the late sixteenth century that they were much ornamented. According to Viollet le Due, since the most remote ages, from Brisean times down to the Romans, such adrianos were made of iron. Vusari speaks of adrianos made with "meraviglioso magistero" for the capitals of the Arte della Seta, but I have not found much ornamentation upon them in early as he says. I have a theory of my own, which is contrary to that of Viollet le Due. In England adrianos are called fire dogs, and in the Hargrave there is a splendid specimen made in the form of crouching hounds. I hold that the adrianos were in the first instance made in the shape of animals lying at rest, shaped of clay or stone, and it was much later that they were made of iron, when they often ended in animals' heads, most often in that of the boar.

ADVERTISING A NOVEL.

In a New York literary club two now elists were discussing a novel of the eighties and of which 60,000 copies had been sold.

"It was," said the older man, "the best piece of advertising I ever heard of, for it was advertising, not merit, that made the book popular."

"The author has a millionaire bachelor friend—call him Millions—and he persuaded Millions to let him write for a newspaper a paragraph to the effect that the novel's heroine had made a hit with him, and if he could find anywhere a girl resembling her he would marry her.

"This paragraph duly appeared. It was copied all over the country. The young women of America, on fire with curiosity and hope, bought and read the book in order to see if they stood any chance with Millions."

The younger novelist took out his notebook.

"By Jove," he muttered. "It wouldn't hurt to resurrect that scheme."

AN OLD CLOUTIE DEAD.

Chicago, Ill., April 9.—Word was received yesterday by H. A. Hanson, of this city, of the death of B. F. Parker at a sanitarium in Milwaukee, on April 3d. He had been there some time under treatment for paralysis. He was 71 years old. The deceased left Cairo in 1885 for Chicago, after a continuous residence here since 1887. He was for many years a leading business man of Cairo.

PECCULAR COINCIDENCE.

Suspicious—"Very peculiar coincidence," said the tall post, as he opened the big envelope.

"What is that?" asked the brother.

"Why, some weeks ago I sent the editor of the Whoopie Magazine a poem entitled 'The Old Mint Julep,'"

"Did he accept it?"

"Yes, but when I sent him another poem the other day he returned it with the following message: 'We accepted your first poem; but now we are full.'—Chicago News."
